Ellen Knight, 99 years young

The auditorium at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home was the scene of a very special birthday party on Sunday. Family members, friends and staff gathered to celebrate Ellen Knight's 99th birthday.

During the party Mrs. Knight and her daughter Ernice reminisced about her life.

Mrs. Knight was born near Pembroke in 1885. After the arrival of two younger brothers, her father decided that the family should be raised in the country so they moved to a section of land near Copper Cliff in 1892. Mrs. Knight explained that the government was offering grants to settlers to purchase land and build homes. The family were pioneers in the truest sense. The land was rocky and densely wooded and had to be cleared before the family could build a home and begin farming.

In 1916 Mrs. Knight graduated from the Toronto Bible College and the same year married Edison Knight. The couple returned to Copper Cliff where Mrs. Knight began working for the Post Office. At first she rode a horse to and from work and at times in the winter, when the roads were snowed in, she would have to walk to work on snowshoes. Later Mrs. Knight acquired her driver's permit and notes with some pride that "I never had a mark against my licence."

The Knights raised two daughters; Mrs. Annitta Jackson who resides in Kempville and Mrs. Ernice Warder of Lochlin. In 1967 after Edison died Mrs. Knight moved to Ingoldsby to be closer to her daughter then in 1975 she moved into Hyland Crest.

She enjoys participating in the many daily activities at the Home particularly crokinole and enjoys the company of the people around her. "Everyone is so very kind to me here" she commented. When asked if there was any secret to her living such a long and full life she replied "Everybody has their appointed time."

Ride raises $14,111 for Snowarama

While the number of riders decreased from last year, sponsors of this year's Minden Snowarama reported that money raised through the project was slightly ahead of last year's total.

Lionel Walker, Rotary Club spokesman for the local Snowarama said the ride raised $14,111 in pledges this year. That compares with $14,000 last year. The ride, which took place on Saturday, attracted 52 riders.

Walker placed part of the blame for the reduction of riders on an erroneous radio report Friday, which said the Minden ride had been cancelled. Mild weather Friday caused a number of similar rides in the province to postpone the events.

"Several riders who are with us each year had already set out from Toronto Friday evening when they heard the cancellation report," Walker said. "They got as far as Orillia and then returned home." Fortunately one of the riders called Walker to confirm the cancellation. When they learned the report was untrue, they set off again for Minden and did take part in the ride.

Most riders were pleased with the condition of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association trails which were used for the Snowarama. "It was just like riding on the 401," one enthusiastic participant commented.

Bill Seedhouse of Mississauga once again won the trophy for collecting the greatest number of pledges. His total was just shy of $6500. His son also took part in the ride, raising $600. The rider with the second highest total of pledges was Del Taylor of Beaverton.

The money raised through the local event, and the Snowaramas and Skiaramas held throughout the province, is contributed to the Easter Seal Society where it is used to support work for crippled children. This was the tenth year for the event.

The Minden Rotary Club, which sponsored the event locally, also invited CBC Radio sportscaster George Duffield to take part. In addition to providing publicity leading up to the event, he raised $175 in pledges. The radio personality said he enjoyed the ride and his visit to Minden. "You live in one of the prettiest areas of the province," he commented.

Agency plans to phase out group homes

For the past sixteen years Browndale has been operating group homes and a summer camp in Haliburton County.

On February 4, 1984 Browndale ceased to exist. In it's place a new organization has emerged with a redefined role in the community.

The change in the former Browndale organization was announced at a public meeting held on Friday at PineStone Inn. The meeting was set up by KinArk Children and Family Services the agency which has evolved from Browndale.

Representatives from KinArk outlined the agency's future plans to members of the Haliburton County Children's Advisory Board and members of the Haliburton County Board of Education.

According to the representative from KinArk the treatment centres or group homes in the county will be gradually phased out. The twenty-eight children who are living in the centres at present will attend the agency's summer camp, then, in September will either return to their homes or be placed in centres closer to their families. Three of these centres will be set up in the Oshawa area since nearly half the children under KinArk's care in Haliburton County are from Oshawa. The summer camp will continue in operation as well as an office near the Stanhope Airport.

A spokesman said in recent years in the field of children's services there has been an increased emphasis placed on working in the home with the entire family. As Allan Vallillee, the assistant executive director of programming for KinArk explained "presently there are less referrals made for residential care because with good professional help, the children can stay at home."

KinArk plans to continue work in the mental health field in Haliburton County. The organization wants to evolve into a responsive agency within the community but does not want to become entrenched in a specific program. As Mr. Vallillee explained "KinArk doesn't want to create a program that is not flexible enough to serve the needs of the county," and added, "KinArk wants to be able to respond to the needs of the community when they arise."

He went on to say that KinArk will be working in the future under the Children and Family Services Act which will allow them more flexibility in dealing with children who need help. At present the agency works under the Childrens' Mental Services Act.

KinArk hopes to be able to do non-residential work with families in the county. Over the next few months the agency will be working to assess the needs of in the area to help define their role as a service agency. Mr. Vallillee commented "The next six months will be critical. We have no illusion that we will be able to fill all the gaps for children in this area."

Dale Robinson the principal of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School expressed the hope that the Board of Education would be able to continue the relationship with KinArk that had been established with Browndale. In elaborating he stated that within the last year the Board of Education has developed a good working relationship with Browndale and would want to continue working with KinArk.

The representatives of KinArk agreed that the working relationship was better now than ever.

Wood products plant proposed for Haliburton

The first meeting of what could be a new manufacturing concern for Haliburton County took place last Thursday evening.

Lucky Dollar Industries owned by Don Mintz held its first meeting of the community board of advisors at the Fireside Restaurant in Minden.

According to Mintz, the company is currently seeking contracts to supply various wood products to manufacturers and for the finished market. He said there has been a great deal of interest from the Ontario shoe industry in his proposed operation. The company would manufacture slugs, the forms on which shoes are molded.

Mintz suggested that the company also be involved in custom wood products such as furniture and other items. He said he was pursuing the final details of a contract with a shoe manufacturer.

The factory, which Mintz said would initially employ 20 individuals, would be located in the new industrial park in Haliburton Village. He envisaged a building with just over 8000 square feet for the manufacturing outlet.

The owner said if the operation was a success, it could employ up to 100.

Speaking to the board of advisors, Mintz told the gathering he was interested in employing those who are partially handicapped or on limited disability pensions. He said the plan would be to gradually turn over ownership of the company to the employees. He said by hiring these individuals it would help reduce the tax burden plus allow them to participate in a meaningful way in the economy.

Mintz said the company would have to be flexible in the product lines it produced, always anticipating the needs of the future. He said he had carried out 11 years of research into the idea.

An investment of $36,000 has already been made by Mintz into the company, including equipment purchases and the production of prototype models. The owner said he was ready to begin full-scale production as soon as the building was erected.

Mintz told the meeting that preliminary estimates of the cost of the structure would be $120,000. Further discussion among those present indicated that the cost was probably somewhat higher than the initial amount indicated.

Mintz said the company would rely on provincial and federal assistance through grant programs, the Workers' Compensation Board and other agencies interested in business expansion and employing the handicapped.

He said the viability of the company would be dependent on profit sharing, flexibility, observing the marketplace and economy and avoiding over-staffing. He said that no consideration should be given to the introduction of a union into the company.

Once the company was operational it was suggested that franchises for the patterns could be shared with other manufacturers in the province.

Members of the advisory board who were in attendance at the first meeting include: Dr. Anthony Holliday-Rhodes, Murray Fearrey, John Bath, Wayne Woods, Dr. John Purc, Paul Heffer, Steven Wrightman, Isabel Keefer, Don Mintz and Patricia Mintz.

The principal owners are Don, Patricia and Kendall Mintz.

Mintz said he hoped the construction of the building would be ready to begin by this spring.

Harcourt resident injured

A Harcourt resident was taken to hospital suffering from what police describe as major injuries following a single car accident on Highway 121 east of Haliburton Village.

Injured was 31 year old Linda Mumford. The mishap occurred February 3.

According to the police she was travelling east on the highway when the vehicle spun out of control in the slush on the roadway. The vehicle struck a number of guard posts before coming to rest.

Mumford was taken to Haliburton Hospital for treatment.

The accident was investigated by Constable Brad Burkholder.

Snowmobile mishaps

Police report a number of incidents this past week involving snowmobiles.

On January 30 a snowmobile was damaged when someone kicked the machine. The action caused the oil reservoir to be punctured which was unknown to the driver. He started the machine but discovered shortly that the engine had siezed. The incident occurred in Haliburton Village.

A 1979 model snowmobile was reported stolen from a Moose Lake cottage. Police followed the tracks of the vehicle for some distance, but lost the trail when it became mingled with other snowmobile tracks in the area.

Several collisions between snowmobiles and parked vehicles have also been reported in Haliburton Village and Dorset.

The police advise that they are currently enforcing speeding regulations for snowmobiles. According to the Motorized Snow Vehicle Act, snowmobiles must travel no faster than 20 kilometres per hour in areas where the speed is posted limited at 50 km/h or less. In areas where the posted limited is greater than 50 km/h, the machines must travel no faster than 50 km/h. There is also a 50 km/h speed limit on all county trails.

Stanhope planning grant

A community planning study grant of $18,289 has been awarded to the Township of Stanhope, Claude Bennett, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, announced recently.

The grant will be used by the municipality to prepare a new comprehensive zoning bylaw.

Community planning study grants are designed to encourage municipalities to resolve land use planning issues to reflect municipal and economic priorities.

They may also be used for special studies to develop community improvement policies, to determine the feasibility of using data processing technology in the local planning process and to assist in implementing the Planning Act.

The study grant will cover 75% of the estimated costs of preparing the comprehensive zoning bylaw.

An endearing proposal

The suggestion that a deer park be established in Minden is one that has been enthusiastically greeted by area residents. We add our endorsement to those who have already commented favourably.

The plan, as proposed by the Minden Parks Committee, is to fence off a portion of the park land behind the library/cultural centre and south of the arena. Deer suitable to the terrain would be introduced into this enclosure. The possibility of having other animals compatible with deer, or a separate enclosure for a children's petting zoo has also been suggested.

The idea has merit for a number of reasons. The land in question has limited development potential. It is low and subject to flooding. Attempts to make use of the property, for ice car racing, proved futile as the wet conditions caused problems with the slightest hint of mild weather. To develop the area into a formal park would be a formidable task.

The deer enclosure proposal would make use of a tract of land that, up to now, seemed destined to grow tag alders. It will also provide an important year 'round attraction for visitors to Minden. The deer, and possibly other animals, will be visible through the fence in all seasons. Repeat visits are highly likely, particularly if the park committee follows the original suggestion to operate the attraction on a no-charge basis.

It is ideas like this one which create new opportunities for this community to grow. We wish the committee best of luck in their endeavours.

Facilities inadequate

-by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Recently, David Peterson and Health Critic Sheila Copps made a presentation to the Canadian Medical Association Task Force entitled "Options for Living".

It was noted that Ontario is currently home to 900,000 elderly people. In Victoria-Haliburton there are 9,680 people 65 years of age and older, or 16.35% of the total population. We are considerably higher than the national and provincial average. These people need a choice of options for living which will ensure they have opportunities for continued self sufficiency and satisfaction. Will such options be available as Ontario's population ages? The present record does not provide grounds for hope.

A 1981 Ontario Economic Council study outlines our grim position compared with other provinces in terms of the number of percentage of aged persons in various types of institutions, using 1976 data. Ontario placed eighth with 8.9 per cent of its population aged 65 or over in hospital, special care or mental health facilities. The study also revealed that the percentage of such people in nursing home-residential living arrangements was 6.5 per cent compared to 2.4 in England and Wales and 5.0 per cent in the U.S. Canada has one of the highest levels of admission to hospital settings per 10,000 population in the world, according to a 1980 World Health Organization study.

Waiting lists

One might expect the preceding facts to indicate that elderly Ontarians have their health care needs provided for more than adequately. Yet the three main types of long-term care facilities (homes for the aged, nursing homes and long term care beds in hospitals) are subject to long waiting lists. Latest available Ministry figures reveal numerous outstanding applications for admission for fiscal 1981/82. Charitable homes for the aged reported outstanding applications totalling 3,138 across Ontario while municipal homes reported 2,800 outstanding applications.

Clearly, despite Ontario's rate of institutionalization, many elderly people are on long waiting lists for a coveted spot in institutionalized life. Why is this so? What are the options?

It has become apparent through coroners' inquests, advocacy organizations and complaints of family members that many elderly are inappropriately placed. This problem of inappropriate allocation is the result of two issues: reimbursement and levels of care.

Proposals to extend the shipping season year round on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River have been floating around Washington for more than a decade with no success. But a recently drafted U.S. bill that has sailed through committee into Congress could change all that. H.R. Bill 3678, an omnibus water resources bill, includes provision for a mammoth project developed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and expected to cost the U.S. and Canada well over $2 billion during the next 50 years.

Winter navigation would involve major engineering work including additional locks, deepening and widening channels beyond present depths, dredging and continuous icebreaking, as well as construction of underwater dams in the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers. It would be one of the largest-ever construction projects.

The need? Well that's not so clear. The major proponent in Congress seems to be a congressman from Minnesota named Strangeland who is seeking more federal funds for his economically-depressed district. But St. Lawrence Seaway traffic has declined significantly in recent years, and the seaway is only operating at half capacity. In fact the Lake Carriers Association has clearly stated its lack of interest in the project.

From all accounts H.R. 3678 appears to be a classic federal pork barrel water project. And the potential environmental costs, which proponents propose to study during construction would be massive. The odds of an oil spill are estimated to be 1 in 100 in any given year. Major fishery losses appear inevitable due to impacts on habitat caused by winter ship movement, dredging and dam construction. Wave surges under ice would destroy underwater habitat and bottom dwelling organisms, affecting the food chain for fish, birds and mammals. Water level changes are predicted to have major effects on wetlands. Artificial movement of ice would devastate waterfowl habitat as it scours vegetation beds, erodes shorelines and moves ice into normally open water areas.

For all these reasons, together with the huge costs, politicians and citizens groups from all over eastern Canada and the U.S. have mounted opposition to the bill's passage. Canadian Environment Minister Charles Caccia told the Annual Meeting of the International Joint Com-

Editor:

From time to time all newspapers slip up. It's nothing sinister I'm sure, just a word here, a phrase there, here an innuendo, there an emphasis that in fact never occurred. Mistakes do happen, and for a number of reasons we all can overlook them.

On the positive side, more than once misquotes have been a benefit to me when a local editor or type-setter graciously doctored a spelling error in my writing or a clumsy bit of grammar in my speech that resulted in a definite improvement when reported in print.

More often than not, the overall thrust of a story is never threatened by minor flaws, and when it comes to political reporting it is never too difficult to feel compassion for the recording journalists at AHM council meetings. Especially the late evening sessions.

Having just completed a regular day of business, the local word-processors must suffer tortuous overtime as sole public witnesses to a race for midnight between a motion of adjournment and their slipping consciousness. All the while they must exhibit skills of cipher and lip-reading in order to break through the tomb-like acoustics of our chambers that are further aggravated by a huddling of council whispering to each other around and through furry moustaches, pencil tips, cigarettes, assorted lozenges, and ever receding fingernails.

However, there are times when a flaw as small as one misplaced word does make a difference. A case in point may be found in last week's ECHO reporting and editorial opinion of my "proposal to instruct Reeve Lyle McKnight and Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas on how to vote" at County Council. The operative word of course is "instruct", and such a word never passed these lips in describing my motion, nor are they recorded in the Clerk's notes, or the TIMES' report of the subject.

As a matter of fact those present may recall that I prefaced my remarks by saying that I was going to skirt the issue of "free votes" and instead present a motion in support of a request by the Agnes Jamieson Gallery for funds from the County, and to ask our County representatives for their greatest consideration of voting against any allottment of funds to the Rails' End Gallery without similar treatment being shown for the like facility in Minden. Now such a motion may be many things, lobbying perhaps, pressure politics perhaps, but an "instruction" to the reeve and deputy reeve it definitely is not.

Such a motion is consistent, I believe, with the responsibilities of an AHM councillor acting as an appointed municipal representative for the Agnes Jamieson Gallery (which I am) and consistent with the notable services offered by a facility that is proud to bear the name of one of this County's most illustrious citizens (while serving the medical needs of the Highlands through the 1930's, 40's, and 50's Dr. Jamieson became Ontario's first female coroner).

My motion will be tabled on February 9 to see if in fact it will be seconded and open for discussion prior to a vote. There has been no backroom lobbying for support; the prior notice of the motion at last meeting was offered to allow members a chance to think about it and is a common procedure for me to keep issues open and available for public scrutiny.

As it stands though, the real subject of that motion has been clouded for a week by a "motherhood" issue of free voting privileges for the reeve and deupty reeve. The serious nature of the exchange (the editorial's use of "instruct" rather than the actual quote "consider") is twofold.

First there is a general tendency for the public to accord authenticity to the 'printed word', especially (and this is the second and most important point) when it is printed by the agency the public (certainly in the Highlands at least) has come to recognize and rely upon as their principal witness to the workings of local government ... namely the newspapers.

Not more than one tenth of council meetings are attended by any other persons in AHM than the local reporters. Their reporting, and more importantly their editorializing (which is a legitimate and valuable source of dialogue) must reflect the actual word and phrase used if the trust they hold with the public is not to be strained.

Thankfully this has largely been the case in our County, and I hope this letter will clarify an instance of editorial opinion that unfortunately must relinquish the dramatic punch of an "eroding influence" from Blairhampton.

Gary Kenney
Blairhampton

P.S. ... The irony of it all is that I introduced (in March of 1983 when Martin Beifer was standing in as ECHO editor) the question of within what "limited number of issues" (Mr. Pizzey's phrase) County council representatives' votes should portray a municipal council position. I was a very noticeable minority of one that even wanted to discuss such a sensitive (?) issue. Perhaps the occasion will arise once more in discussions of our new Procedural By-Law. I hope.

Editor's note: Minden resident, Mrs. Jeanne Sears, recently wrote to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications regarding the relocation of the bus depot to Highway 35. She received a response from J. M. Dykstra, the Manager of the Bus Transportation Office with the ministry. She asked that we reprint the response as the information it contains would be of interest to area residents.

Dear Mrs. Sears:

I am responding to your letter of December 6, 1983 in which you expressed concerns about the new Travelways Bus Terminal in Minden.

As the Manager of the Bus Transportation Office, I assist in the development of government and legislative policy on how the intercity bus industry should be controlled. Currently, by way of the Public Vehicles Act, this Ministry controls the licencing and operation of intercity bus services such as the Travelways Ltd. Minden to Toronto service. These services are provided by private sector resources without any provincial subsidization. Although public vehicle operating licences issued under the Act specify where such services must operate, there is no regulatory provisions which allow this Ministry to dictate to operators when these service must operate or where they must place their stops.

My staff have been in contact with Mr. Ed Skelcher, the Traffic Manager of Travelways about your specific concern, and he indicated that Travelways, in their search for an appropriate agency location, where the owner would be available to sell tickets and to accept bus parcel express, Travelways went to some effort to survey bus passengers. One of the main findings of this survey was that the majority of passengers arrived by car from areas outside of Minden proper. Mr. Skelcher also explained that the new location on the Minden by-pass is next to shopping, eating, medical and banking facilities, and has free and ample parking near by. It would seem that Travelways has gone to some lengths to ensure that an appropriate location was chosen for their agency which would meet both their needs as well as the needs of the majority of their Minden area passengers.

With respect to your comments on fares, my staff calculations show that the regular Travelways Ltd. (Minden to Toronto) fares are less than $.05 per kilometre, a rate that is well below what other intercity bus operators are charging for their scheduled services. In addition, the decision on whether to charge less for senior citizens is one that is left completely at the discretion of the individual bus operators.

In view of the efforts that Travelways Ltd. has taken to ensure that an appropriate location was chosen for the Minden agency and that the fares charges are well below the levels typically charged for similar services, I can not see any reason for this Ministry to take further action. I will, however, be forwarding your letter to Mr. Ken Needler, the Vice-President of Travelways Ltd.'s so that he may be made more directly aware of your concerns.

I hope this response meets with your approval. In closing, I would like to thank you for taking the time to express your concerns on intercity bus services. This kind of correspondence is one of the ways this Ministry maintains an appreciation of the concerns of the general travelling public.

Over 1,000,000 fur-bearing animals will be trapped this winter in Ontario, the vast majority in leg-hold traps. They will suffer unbearable pain, terror, and stress for hours or days. Some will "wring off" leaving their paws behind in the trap; most will die of shock or exposure. Many untargeted animals and birds will be taken needlessly. The leg-hold trap is a barbaric antiquated device which Charles Darwin described as a diabolical instrument of torture, comparable to the torture rack.

Ed Philip, M.P.P. (N.D.P. Etobicoke) submitted Bill 154 to amend the Game and Fish Act in the Ontario Legislature on December 13th, 1983. The Bill bans use of the leg-hold trap on land with the exception of fox, wolf and coyote, in which cases a padded leg-hold trap or some other type of humane trap must be used. The Bill establishes a number of other important humane trapping concepts.

Eleven animal welfare groups have stated that the leg-hold trap should be banned. The Ontario Trappers Association which has implemented progressive trapping improvements recently, has stated it would support various humane trapping regulations including restriction on the use of the leg-hold trap on land to only fox, wolf and coyote.

Persons who wish to support Ed Philip's Bill 154 may obtain copies of a Petition from LEG-HOLD!, Suite 805, 65 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario M5H 2M5.

Editor:

That was a delightful story you had in your issue of January 4th. The one where you reproduced the top half of page one, an issue of the Daytona Beach Morning Journal.

Those two would-be hold-up men will think twice before tackling another Canadian. And while I question the wisdom of the tactics employed by Ada Stevens and her daughter Noreen, I can understand their reaction, and admire their valor. Small wonder the policeman said Ada was "unbelievable."

It is planned to use this item in "Report from the Country" scheduled for presentation in the late Saturday night news on February 11th.

Just thought that you, your staff, and possibly some of your readers might be interested.

And thanks again for this help, and for keeping me posted on happenings in your coverage area each week.

from the chamber

Last weeks' Times Editorial "Identity Crisis" was concerned with the Ministry of Industry and Trades publication, Ontario Business News which contained an article about Len and Roger Creelman's amphibian airplane, the Seawind. To quote from M.I.T. article "Seawind International located in the town of Haliburton in Ontario's lake-studded Muskoka vacation area."

It might be of interest to know that the M.I.T. office at 900 Bay Street (albeit another floor) received over 1000 pieces of literature from the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce in the last year. MI.T. has been on our mailing list for years and have literally passed out hundreds of pounds of Haliburton County brochures for us. We have sent the Times editorial, the Creelman article, more brochures and more county maps with a covering letter to help further instruct M.I.T. as to where this county is.

Ottawa in some instances is not much better as was the case when doing research on an abandoned gold mine in Dysart, trying to obtain a history of same, contacted one of the mines departments there, only to be asked if Haliburton was in Alberta?

Katimavik is an Inuit word for meeting place. Katimavik's participants are 17 to 21 years old from all across our country who are selected by computer to give each group of twelve a cross-section of representatives. Approximately 1700 participants are chosen each year from the thousands who apply for the feeral government program. They come into communities such as ours and help with a variety of tasks that would not be accomplished otherwise, often because there simply is no money in any budget to cover the work they take on. Basically all that they require from the sponsoring community is a supervisor to direct them and citizens who show concern and appreciation.

You may recall their generous donation of time and effort to the Chamber in the fall when the last group painted the reception area. Some people have suggested that the paint will help support the walls for another year.

Katimavik participants are paid $1.00 per day by the federal government no matter how hard they work and if they survive the nine month program they receive a $1000 honorarium. They spent three month periods in three different regions of Canada, one third of the program in Quebec as one of the aims is to become bilingual. They learn many survival skills on each has his turn at cooking for the group, budgeting and meal planning. Other activities include mountain climbing in B.C., outdoor sub-zero camping at Camp Kandalore, authentic Indian moccasin making, helping at the Winter Carnival, a trip to the Chalk River Nuclear Lab, C.N. Tower and Science Centre in Toronto, weekly gym sessions as well helping weekly with swimming lessons for disabled children at the PineStone, and/or other projects the group as a whole agree upon.

Minden Katimavik participants are presently looking for billets from Feb. 19 to March 4 which enables the individual members to become one of the family of local residences and as such learn about the kind of people that make up this county. They will help you and you will help them by giving of your knowledge and knowhow in an area new to them. The federal government provides a stipend. For more information please call Scott Moody at 286-3777.

If you are a Canadian between 17 and 21 and would like to make an application for the program, ask your high school councellor, the Canada Manpower Centre or Scott Moody.

Wayne Cox heads society for third year

Wayne Cox will once again serve as president of the Minden Agricultural Society. His election to the post for a third term was confirmed at the group's annual meeting held recently at the Minden municipal offices.

The Minden Agricultural Society sponsors the Haliburton County Fair each year.

The meeting also saw the re-election of the other members of the society's executive. Serving another term as first vice president is Sue Stevens. Bess Cox was re-elected to the post of second vice president while Jeunne Lacey will serve as secretary. Helen Johnson was appointed treasurer.

Commenting on the 1983 fall fair, the president said the event was favoured with excellent weather. He singled out the light and heavy horse shows as well as the new goat show as highlights of the 1983 fair.

He expressed his appreciation to the many members of the board of directors and the society who volunteered their time to make the annual event a success. "I can only hope the 1984 fair will be as successful," he commented.

The fair dates for 1984 were confirmed at the meeting. The event will be held August 17, 18 and 19.

Elected as directors of the society for the coming year were: Jim McMahon, Jean Lacey, Dwain Wruth, Maurice Bradley, Sharron Greer, Ken Alger, Loretta Nesbitt, Marg Miller and Mary Jane Irwin. Selected as associate directors were Flo Dollo, Mary Cox, Mervin Gilbert, Walter Ackerblade, Reita Hughes, Mae Kernohan, Gary Kenney, Wendy Homestead, Mary Lou Johnson, Bea Taylor, Jerry Pillsworth, Ruth Anne Kernohan, and Diane Johnson.

mission in Indianapolis, Indiana last fall, that Canada would oppose any extension of the Great Lakes shipping season for both economic and environmental reasons.

These critisisms have at least tied H.R. 3678 up for a time in the labyrinth of the U.S. Legilsative process. However, it is far from dead. When billions of tax dollars are involved, the deal-making continues non-stop. Canadians must keep the pressure on. You might drop a line of encouragement to both Prime Minister Trudeau and Premier Davis. Winter navigation would be an environmental nightmare and an economic boondoggle.

home beds - providing extended and chronic levels of care. Extended care, under the Patient Classification System, is up to 1 1/2 hours of nursing care. However, many patients receive up to 4 hours of such care. Funding allotments remain the same, with the obvious result. Quality of care suffers. Another common result is the placement of a resident within a home for the aged which was never intended to provide such high levels of nursing care. A bleaker scenario is the result of endless, futile days in a hospital bed.

The Health Ministry avoids defining the upper limit of extended care and adjusting funding levels accordingly at the peril of the elderly within extended care settings. September '83 Conventions of both the Nursing Homes and Homes for the Aged Associations called with united voice for the immediate implementation of a third level of care - heavy extended care - to bridge the gap between extended and chronic care.

I will report further on the presentation to the Canadian Medical Task Force next week.

Summer Canada'84
Let's put tomorrow's work force on the job today.

Everyone knows that summer jobs give students a chance to earn money to continue their education. But that's just part of the story. Summer employment is also the best way to get the kind of experience that makes it easier to eventually find a full-time job. Employers who hire students help to develop skills that will benefit them in the future.

The Government of Canada will assist sponsors of Summer Canada Works projects with a contribution towards student wages and job-related overhead costs.

YOU CAN HELP TO CREATE JOBS FOR STUDENTS THROUGH SUMMER CANADA WORKS PROJECTS

Summer Canada Works projects provide productive employment for local students. Projects should employ at least three local students and should produce goods or services to benefit the community. All jobs must be full-time and must last between six and 18 consecutive weeks during the summer.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE FOR FUNDING?

Community and volunteer groups, professional and technical associations, most local governments and private sector employers are eligible for Summer Canada Works funding.

HOW TO APPLY

If your organization has an idea for a Summer Canada Works project, contact the nearest Canada Employment Centre or Employment Development Branch office of Employment and Immigration Canada for information and application forms. APPLICATION DEADLINE IS FEBRUARY 24, 1984.

Staff at the Canada Employment Centre can also give you more information about other Summer Canada programs and services. These include:

- SUMMER CAREER ACCESS a student wage subsidy program
- RCMP and DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL DEFENCE student employment programs

Bonspiels

Keep in mind the annual Carnarvon Electric mens bonspiel coming up on February 18 at our home club with an estimated sixteen teams competing. This 'spiel promises to display great curling action and, as always, spectators are more than welcome. The 'spiel begins at 9 a.m. and continues all day and evening.

Races and rally

Auto enthusiasts have two items of interest this coming weekend.

First, a full slate of ice racing is scheduled for Minden. Tom Prentice, local spokesman for the ice racers, told The Times that the event planned for a track in Orillia has been relocated to Minden.

The races were cancelled last weekend due to the warm conditions. He said the organizers decided that all the final three race dates on this year's calendar should be held in Minden.

Races start Saturday morning and conclude Sunday afternoon. Admission at the fairgrounds is free.

All nighter

A rally of another kind will be passing through the Haliburton Highlands this weekend, but it is unlikely that many people will be aware of it.

The British Empire Motor Club will be holding its annual winter rally.

The event starts in Toronto Saturday evening at 7:30. It winds its way through the winter darkness of Ontario for 700 kilometres, returning to Toronto at 8:30 the next morning. The rally is not a race, but rather an event in which driver and navigator attempt to cover an allotted distance in a prescribed amount of time. Those exceeding the time or arriving early at various checkpoints are penalized.

The cars taking part in this rally are expected in the area in the wee hours of the morning. However, if this sort of activity appeals to you, The Brown Owl Restaurant will be the place to be. The rally organizers have arranged a food and gas stop at this Highway 35 location.

Season ends for Huskies

Season end in any sport is a time for reflection on the past year and a look ahead to the future. This is particularly true for the Haliburton Northernways Huskies.

During the 1982-83 season the Huskies nearly folded due to a lack of interest by some of the players and the team's dismal showing in the standings. An agreement with the Minden Minor Hockey Association and the Huskies allowed players to move back and forth between the juvenile team and the junior "C" team. This kept the team alive, but during the season the Huskies won only two games.

This past season the Huskies were a much improved team. Under coach Derrell Stamp the team won twelve games and tied five to end up in third place in the Northern division of the Georgian Bay league.

Captain Scott Arbuthnot was named the top defenceman of the Northern division and forward Dave Nicholls not only won the award for the Most Valuable Player in the Northern division but also won the scoring championship for the entire Georgian Bay league. However the Huskies were defeated in four games straight in the playoffs and once again the future of the team is in doubt.

In commenting on the team's future, coach Derrell Stamp pointed out that Scott Arbuthnot will not be playing for the Huskies anymore because he is over age. Ron Yake who added a lot of scoring punch when he rejoined the team this year will also be ineligible to play. The coach offered the opinion that management will have to decide this summer "whether it is worthwhile remaining in the Junior 'C' league." He added that "it is tough to keep up against the bigger towns." He suggested that the Huskies could drop to a 'D' league if such a league is going in this area and added "there has to be a place for kids to play hockey."

Huskies Captain Scott Arbuthnot accepts the trophy for the best defenceman from league convenor Danny Poland. Dave Nicholls, inset, won the scoring championship and the M.V.P. award. The presentations were made before the Huskies' final game of the season.

Rock and roll Tuesday night

by Justin Kidding

All kinds of surprises to start the second schedule of the Tuesday rock & roll league here. Don Blakey's blatantly stacked rink has surged to two convincing victories. Don bushwacked Stan Blears 10 - 2 to open the schedule and then followed that with a 12 - 4 shellacking over an incredulous Jerry Pillsworth. Those nasty rumours which surfaced during the first schedule about the drawmaster being on the take may have received some credence when Dwight Thomas showed up with his new team. Thomas raided a neighbouring club to come up with an ace vice, then plundered the junior ranks to bring in a rising young star. To top things off, he anchored the team with a hot-shooting second who's also deadly at the card table. There were rumblings of discontent as Thomas rolled to two straight wins. Opening night he chalked up an 11 - 1 lead and forced John Dicker to shake hands after six ends. The following week he took a 9 - 4 victory over J. O. Jackson.

Both Dicker and Blears recovered from their first week losses to post wins last week. Dicker responded with a 7 - 6 edging of the heavily - favoured Bill Dillon quartet. It was Dillon's second consecutive loss while Blears hung a second loss on Bill Roodenburg by an 11 - 6 count. Roodenburg fell to Pillsworth in the opening game by the same score. Dillon's first loss was a 6 - 5 squeaker to J. O. Jackson. Other scores saw Paul Prentice split his opening games, taking the first with a 12 - 3 trouncing of Jim Burton, then losing a 10 - 8 decision to Bill Obee the next week.

Juveniles tie 1-1 in Powassan series

Minden and Powassan Juveniles are tied at one game each in their best of seven play-off.

The series opened on a poor note for the Minden team as they travelled to Powassan and came home eleven goals shy of a win. Their hosts trounced the locals 12 - 2.

Scoring for Minden were John McKelvey unassisted and Jeff Stamp with the assist going to Daryl Ward.

It was not a good game for Minden as the Powassan fans took delight in harassing the players. The manager of the Minden team, Dick Schell, requested that officials clear the area around the Minden bench, however the only result was that he received a game misconduct. Eldon Bull and Bill Whittaker were also handed game misconducts. The team recorded 39 minutes in penalties which meant the coach, Carl Hie, had to sit out the next match.

The contest took place Sunday in Minden. The Juveniles edged the visitors by a 7 - 6 margin. Eldon Bull Sr. and Shirley Hie handled the coaching chores for the game.

Doug Schell and Scot Hamilton led the Minden attack scoring two goals each. Both goals for Schell came on a pass from Kevin Hamilton and Bill Whittaker. Assisting on the Hamilton goals were Jeff Stamp on the first and John McKelvey and Jeff Stamp on the second. Other Minden goalgetters included John McKelvey from Scot Hamilton, Jim McKelvey from Jeff Stamp and Bill Whittaker from Kevin Hamilton.

The next game for the Juveniles is Friday, 9 p.m. in Minden. The fourth game in the series will be played Saturday evening in Powassan.

The Powassan North Stars' goalie ducks under a shot from a Minden Monarch player. The action took place during the juvenile playoffs on Sunday. Minden won the game 7-6 to tie the series at one game each.

Birds begin their return

The February snow lies deep upon the land. In the midst of one of the coldest winters in recent years, it is easy to lose sight of the fact that spring, really and truly, is just around the corner.

One of the most obvious signs of spring is the return of the birds. Most of us watch for the first robin sometime in late March and take that as a harbinger of better things to come. But migration, that mysterious, almost magical compulsion that moves tiny creatures over incredible routes, begins in February. The first migrants to return to Ontario are horned larks, small birds with the colouring of sparrows, highlighted by bright yellow throats and devilish little ear tufts that look like horns. Watch for them on weed stalks that poke up through the snow on the verges of country lanes. They will be followed by flocks of crows and, wherever there is open water, by pairs of adventurous ducks. By mid-March tundra swans, bound for the shores of the Arctic Ocean, arrive in the thousands for a brief stopover along the north shore of Lakes Erie and Ontario. As March gives way to April and April to May, the songbirds follow, first in a trickle, then in a flood.

The grand finale of migration is the inundation of warblers that sweeps up from the south. One of the very best places on the North American continent to watch this colourful show is at Point Pelee, a finger of land pointing down into the west end of Lake Erie. Here the birds are funneled along the narrow point in numbers reaching the tens of thousands. On 'wave' days, caused by cold air from the north meeting warm air from the south, the travellers rest so that observers may see as many as 150 different species in a 24 hour period.

Each year, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists organizes a week of birding at Pelee for those who want to witness this natural wonder. The leaders are experts, but those who join them need only be curious about nature and want to learn more of its secrets. The dates of this year's trip are May 6 - 11. If you would like more information on this or any of the many other nature tours offered across Canada, contact FON Trips, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario M3B 2W8, telephone (416) 444-8419.

Working 'against' the taxpayer

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

Over the past couple of months in my role as Deputy Critic for National Revenue, I have received copies of numerous cases of complaints by taxpayers to that Department.

Before Christmas, some of my colleagues and I did meet with the Deputy Minister of National Revenue, Taxation. He and his officials provided us with a briefing on his department for which we thanked him.

Included in that briefing was a table entitled, "Growth in person-years compared to growth in workload". The most significant figures in the table, to my mind, show that between 1977-78 and 1982-83 the number of notices of objection rose 102%, the number of inquiries rose 55% and the number of taxpayer requested adjustments rose 61%.

These figures show that there is no doubt about the increasing difficulty taxpayers are finding in filling out their returns. This prompted me to ask what percentage of taxpayers require help from accountants, tax discounters, etc. in filling out their forms. The Deputy answered that their survey shows that his figure now is about 54%. When over half of us need assistance in income tax filing it is not good enough to be the best in the world. We must do better.

Every day in Question Period our M.P.'s have brought forward individual cases of bullying, badgering and threatening by collectors of the Department of National Revenue. It is obvious from the many letters that all of us have received that the rule of the tax investigator is now "guilty unless proven innocent" and the taxpayer is given no assistance at all to prove innocence. It is one thing to pursue and harass someone who owes thousands of dollars in taxes and can afford to pay it. It is quite another to have Revenue Canada forcing farmers off their homestead farms just because they find it necessary to also work off their farms. It is also astonishing to hear of huge penalties assessed to taxpayers due to accounts overdue as a result of employer or Revenue Canada errors.

Revenue Canada must be held accountable for its operating procedures. No longer must they be allowed to produce films seemingly designed to scare taxpayers into compliance. They must be made to realize that they are working for the taxpayers and not against them.

United Church annual meeting

Before the annual congregational meeting of Minden United Church, everyone enjoyed a delicious dinner.

Rev. Westhaver chaired the meeting and Mrs. Bea Berry recorded the minutes. A devotional period ended with silent prayer as we remembered the following who had passed away in 1983. They were - C. Orval Harrison, Dr. Agnes Jamieson, Lyman Cox, Edward Thorlakson, Helen Burton, Stella Richardson, Lillian Harvey, Loran Gartshore, Murray Taylor, Robert Moore, Royce Cowen, Melvin Switzer, Grace Graham, Orise McKay, James McKay, Blanche Windsor and Bertha Barry.

The highlight of our church events occurred in October when Rev. Westhaver married Mrs. Ruth Perkins.

Many excellent reports were given by the various departments. The basement of the manse has been insulated. The choir has received new gowns. The memorial fund comittee purchased a pulpit light in memory of Dr. Jamieson. The U.C.W. has assisted financially and actively in all phases of the work.

The board of stewards reported a new wardrobe built for the choir room. Some of the windows in the Sunday School hall have had storm windows installed. Projects under consideration are - completing the work on storm windows, refinishing entrance doors, draft-proofing decorative windows in the choir loft, and when finances permit decorating the church interior.

Mrs. Bette Herlihey and Richard Kirkwood are presbytery delegates, and newly appointed elders are Mrs. Ina Brintnell, Mrs. Pat Thornett and Mr. Jim Grant.

Several motions of appreciation were tabled. There are many volunteers who spend hours each week in the Lord's work. They are the organist, choir and choir leader, Sunday school teachers, treasurer, envelope secretary and others.

It is with enthusiasm and confidence we enter into another year's work in our church. Come join us, and be a part of our church family. A welcome awaits you.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

Tax clinic

by Marie Wallace

This year Home Support will, again, sponsor a free Income Tax Clinic which is open to everyone. Mr. Dave Wilson from the Taxation Office in Belleville will be at our Haliburton County Senior Drop-In Centre (located adjacent to our office across from Emmerson Lumber in Haliburton). The date is Thursday, February 9th, from 10 a.m. to noon.

The purpose of the clinic is twofold: - to train volunteers to assist others with completing their forms, and to answer questions which you may have about your income tax.

At the training session, an experienced taxation person will show you how to complete a straightforward tax return. You'll also receive a handbook which you'll be able to keep as a reference when you begin assisting people with their tax returns. The training session won't turn you into a tax expert, but it will enable you to help others in your community.

Last year over 1,000 volunteers assisted 50,000 Canadians with income tax forms.

Seniors, if you are over 65 years and your income is less than $8,000, it is not necessary to file a claim.

If you need assistance, please call Home Support at 457-2941 and we will be happy to match you with a volunteer in your area.

Over two hundred people gathered at the Legion in Haliburton Saturday evening to honour Bob Musclow (the Mayor!) on his retirement from the Ministry of Natural Resources. Bob suffered a "roasting" from his former workmates and old friends but in his speech of thanks, managed to get even in no uncertain terms. It was a most enjoyable evening and everyone wished Bob and his wife Gwen a long and happy retirement. The couple and their family will be moving to their brand new retirement home in Palmer Rapids in the spring. Good luck. We'll miss you both.

Well readers the Kinsmen Winter Carnival is over for another year and the Residents of Hyland Crest have cause to cheer. Our float entry won first prize, and a trophy too, we say to our maintenance men a big 'Thank you' and three cheers - their entry was a symbol of the early pioneers.

In the chapel service Sunday night, the Thompsons were not there. Ruth to play the music, no one to take her place, so we all joined in to help John Henry sing Amazing Grace.

Rev. Burgess took his talk from Romans chapter eight. For as many as were led by the spirit, became the sons of God.

Movies Monday night, Partridge Tureen, Nature's Pattern and White Threat, this was a lovely scene. Tuesday morning Rev. John James of Haliburton United Church came to Hyland Crest, to take the chapel service and was our special guest. He told us different things to do when we become depressed. Fred Ballard came the music to play. We thank them both for coming this last January day.

Guess who came for entertainment here Tuesday night, an all male quartet. They sang and played so lovely, we imagine we can hear them yet. Mervin Reidner, Gordon Houston and Bill Dennison from town, playing guitars, and Norm Graham from Gooderham on the fiddle and could he every play the old banjo. We really enjoyed their music and would like to tell them so.

Wednesday morning down at Fun and Fitness, Chris Precoor won the ramp game, for all to witness, we would like to say a big 'Thank you' to Lorne Coburn, who is retiring from the 'Tuck Shop' duty this Friday, after serving so faithfully for eight years, by the way. Looking after all supplies and the Residents' needs, we will miss you Lorne, we will indeed.

Aileen Blears is taking over, with the help of Mrs. Durant and Aileen's husband Stan, anything the ladies can't do perhaps Stanley can.

Down at fun and fitness Gladys Kirpatrick wasn't so slow. She won the horseshoe pitching twice in a row.

We are sorry to report Lola Prentice and Marjorie Shyler both in hospital. The U.C.W. Ladies from Ingoldsby served a tasty lunch, this Thursday, we also had a party for Mrs. Lee whose ninety-fourth birthday was today. We had violin players who could really play. With Doris playing the piano to make the music complete, wearing the golden slippers to walk the golden feet.

What about this winter weather, I guess we shouldn't complain. One day it's 30 below the next day it starts to rain.

Our good Samaritan came again this Friday afternoon, Grace Coburn to lead the singing, Fred Ballard to play the tunes. Grace had a humorous poem, good husbands are sent from Heaven and as long as things are going well, but if he turns cantankerous, it's kind of hard to tell.

Friendship is so precious
It can't be bought with gold,
Yet friendship everywhere abounds
For loving hearts to hold.

by Jean Lacey

Hi kids!

Here is another puzzle for you. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: What has a neck but can't swallow?
A: A bottle.

Q: When is a tap not a tap?
A: When it is dripping.

Q: What does a cashier in a police station do?
A: Count the coppers.

Q: Two biscuits were crossing the road, when one was run over. What did the other say?
A: Oh, crumbs.
